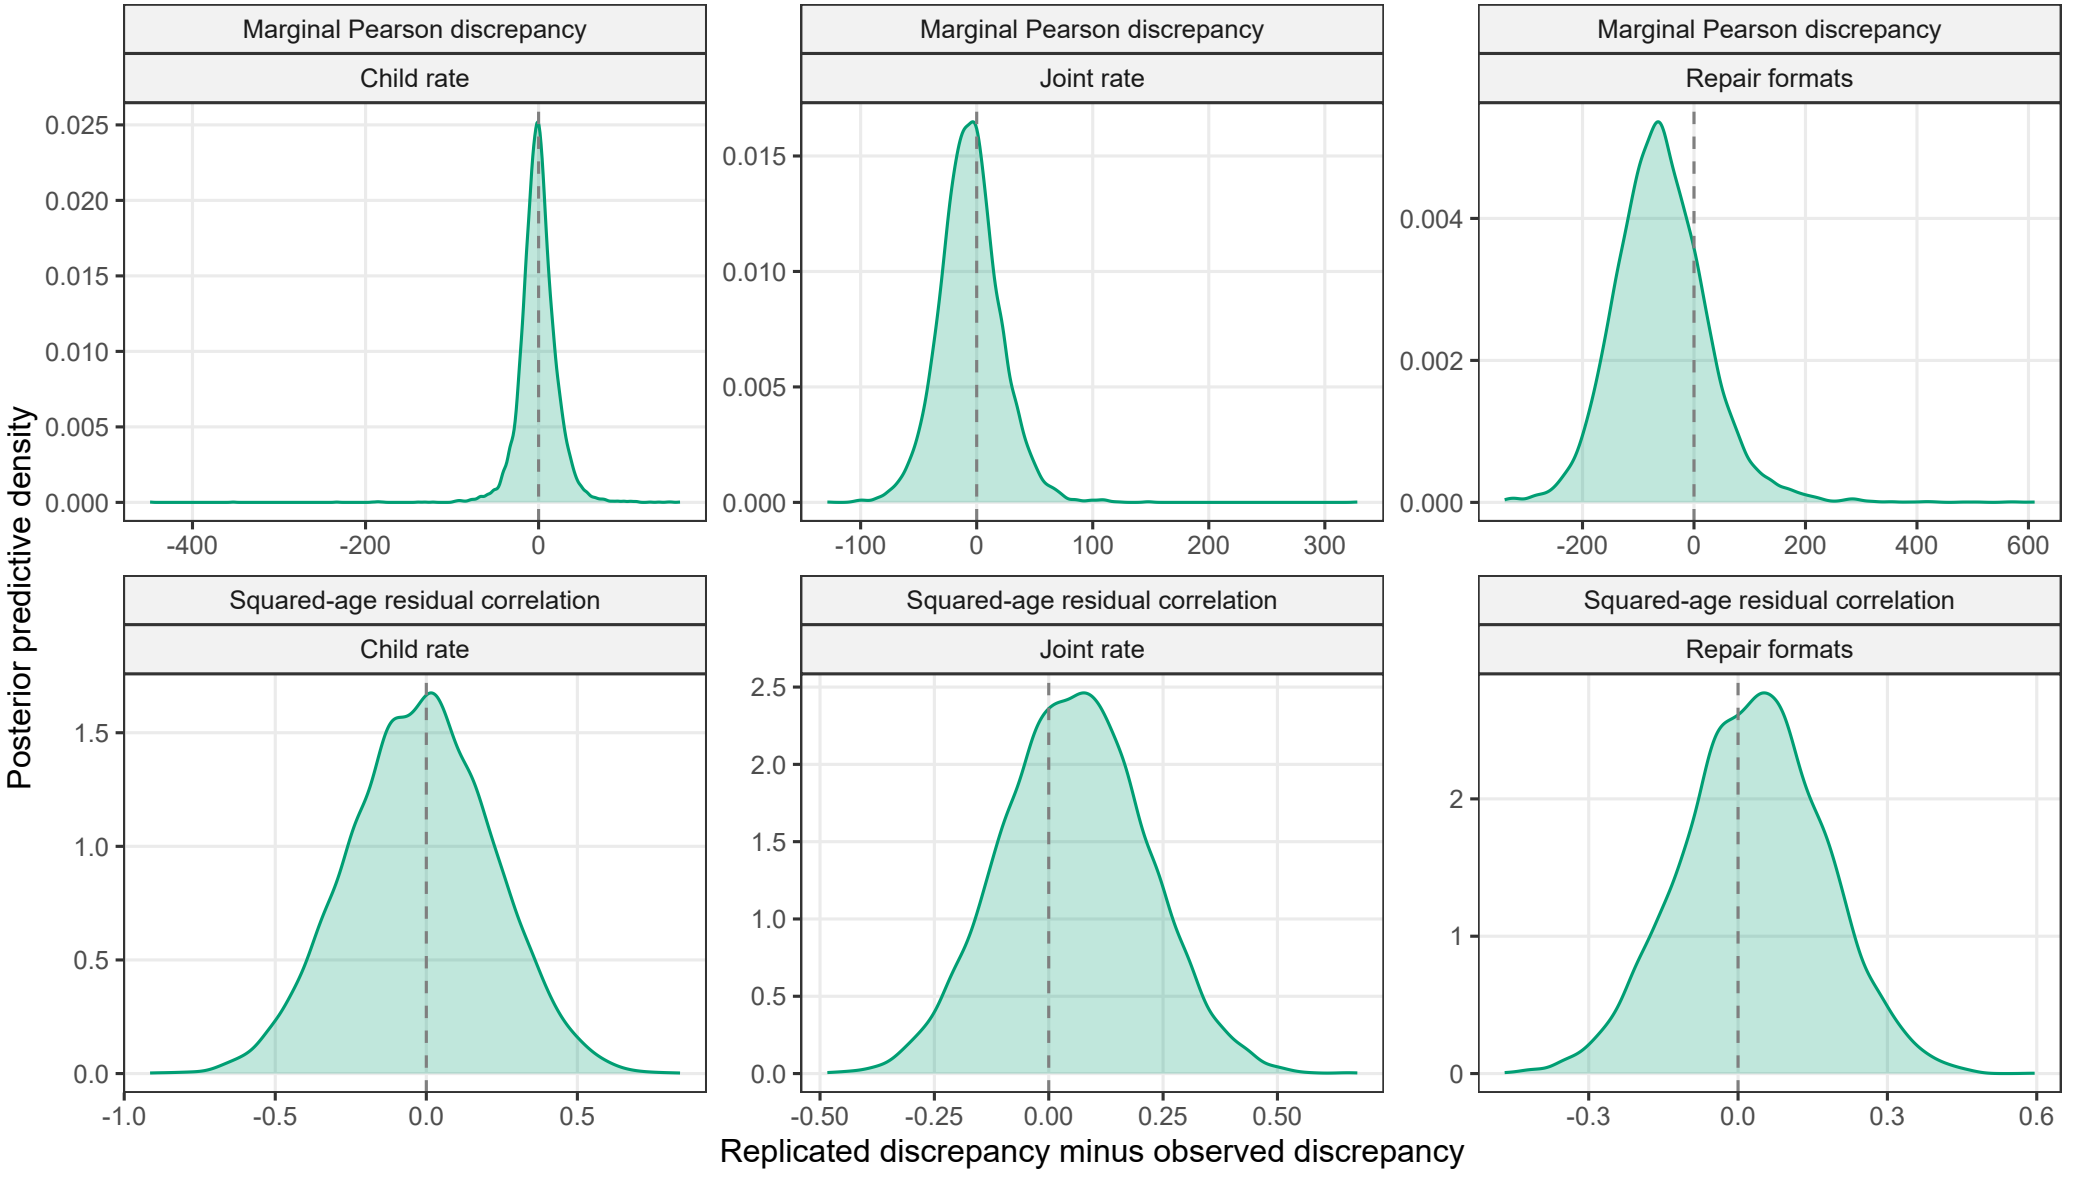
Posterior predictive checks for the primary models

Conditional replication of observed sessions; all retained posterior draws



A centered distribution is reassuring for this feature. These checks are not conventional significance tests.